AN ATTORNEY'S PREDICAMENT

Correspondent States That Property Owner Showed Him an Abstract of Title and Warranty Deed Signed by One of Attorneys as Being Correct.

Cedar Key, Aug. 2.- The suit to quiet title brought by W. W. Hampton and W. E. Baker of Gainesville against the Cedar Key Town Company, L. B. Parsons and J. A. Williams, and which is said to involve the entire town of Cedar Key, is not causing very much excitement or worry among the peeple here who are interested in the suit as defendants, or as property owners who are to be sued later.

At the proper time the defendants will show that they and their grantors have held this property for upwards, of thirty-five years under color of title and will produce certain proofs and documents to show that Parsons, the original locator, is the ancestor of L. B. Parsons, who now owns a considerable slice of the town, and the Cedar Key Town Company will show that its promoter, the late Senator David L. Yulee, one of the best posted real estate lawyers of his day, secured certain lands from the Parsons'.

Living witnesses will be produced who knew the original Parsons and the first settlers of Cedar Key, and who will testify that no one of the name of Pierson ever located here under the armed occupation act.

The writer was shown an abstract of title to certain property here to which is attached a certificate signed by one of the above attorneys, some years ago, and in which he certifies that the title to the property was good; also a warranty deed signed by this attorney. to a part of the property, he certified of the curative merits of that great as being good and which he now seeks erty is wondering if the aforesaid attorney will make good his warranty
